

FLOW CHART FOR APPLICATION INTO THE RESPIRATORY SUBSPECIALTY TRAINING PROGRAMME FOR MALAYSIAN NON-MINISTRY OF HEALTH (MOH) DOCTORS

Entry of Trainees into the Respiratory Subspecialty Programme
Duration 3 years (non-inclusive of 35 days continuous breaks during training)

(subjected to the availability of training centres and trainees) after discussion with the Respiratory Subcommittee MOH
The trainer / trainee ratio is 1 : 2
(Proposed training centres & trainers from respective Deans is encouraged)

*(MOH trainees takes precedent over non-MOH trainees)

Trainees must apply for :

- 1) Annual practicing certificate (APC) to practice at selected hospitals / institutions.
- 2) Credentialing and privileging (C&P) certificate from respective hospitals / institutions

Once both documents are available, in line with the needs of Section 34 (C) Medical Act 1971, (Circular KKM/87/P2-1/27/Jld-4(69) dated 13 March 2013) for the purposes of managing patients, applicants / hospitals has to apply for a written approval from the DG of Health, MOH to train in the respective hospitals / institutions.

Trainee then can practice only when official reply from DG of Health, MOH is available

Apart from the above :

1. The trainee's Institution must be ready to indemnify MOH should there be any medico-legal issues occurring during the training period
2. All statistical data, patient's records and other information obtained during the training period are confidential and cannot be used for any purposes including reports / publications without prior written consent from the DG of Health
3. The government shall not be responsible for any injuries sustained or diseases contracted during the training period
4. Trainees are bound to the Peraturan-Peraturan Pegawai Awam (Kelakuan dan Tatatertib), existing laws and regulations prepared by the hospital / institution from time to time
5. Trainees are not allowed to sign Medical certificates (MC), death certificates, writing of medical report which may bring medico-legal implications
6. When attending seminars / courses organized by other agencies, all expenses shall not be borne by MOH